

Motivational Keynote Speaker

Robert Brown, PhD

Inspires people to discover and use their Personal Wisdom

“You were the best speaker we had here.
Everything made great sense!”
--Washington State Lean Thinking Conference

Who is Robert Brown?

Bob’s first keynote address was to a hospital medical staff in Orange County, California in 1976. Since then he has given countless presentations in the United States, Great Britain and Australia. All have been on people improving their performance or relationships with others. This almost forty years of experience and exploration has culminated in his current talk: How to Solve Every Problem, Resolve Every Conflict and Live a Happy, Contented Life.

Bob is highly trained and deeply experienced in helping people achieve their highest good. Attendees leave his presentations inspired to use powerful new tools to enrich their lives and the lives of those around them.

Put simply, attendees will:

- Upgrade their brain cells
- Establish a mind meld with others
- Solve Every Problem
- Resolve Every Conflict
- Live Happy, Contented Lives

Sixty minutes with Bob enabled me to save my company two million dollars a year.
Hospital executive

We certainly chose the right person. Bob inspired us, guided us, and ensured we enjoyed the experience.

Why Robert Brown?

Bob is unique, presenting his own material, not warmed over or repurposed common knowledge

He connects with the audience, does not simply perform for them

Bob is warm and approachable; not polished to a slippery sheen

Bob is a good fit if the audience is:

- Seeking long-term benefit
- Interested in the why of things
- Seeking to apply new information right away
- Intelligent and curious
- Seeking to relax and have a good time

Bob is also the author of sixteen books.
